This project was funded by the Virginia Coastal Zone Management Program at the Department of Environmental Quality through Grant #NA of the US Department of Commerce National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, under the Coastal Zone Management Act of 1972, as amended.

Grant Number: NA08NOS4190466
Task Number: 48

Richmond Regional Planning District Commission

Planning district commissions make government more efficient and effective through coordinated planning and program analysis. Virginia's General Assembly created planning districts in 1968 under the authority of the Virginia Area Development Act- revised as the Regional Cooperation Act in 1995- "to promote orderly and efficient development of the physical, social and economic elements of the districts." Through planning district commissions, now 21 in number, local governments solve mutual problems which cross boundary lines and obtain expertise from professional staff and advice on making the most of scarce taxpayer dollars through intergovernmental cooperation.

FY 08 Task Narrative Summary

Research: Impervious Surface Forecast

RRPDC staff has completed the Phase III update to the regional impervious surface GIS coverage. RRPDC staff used 2007 aerial photography to identify and digitize impervious cover. Using this new 2007 impervious cover GIS data, analysis of impervious cover trends were conducted by the RRPDC of development in urban, suburban and rural areas in the Richmond Region. In addition, GIS data models can be developed using the impervious cover GIS data that analyze scenarios involving water quality, stormwater runoff, etc. A final report, Richmond Regional Impervious Surface Inventory: Phase III, has been produced with accompanying maps that detail the change in impervious cover that has occurred in the region over the past several years. A link to the report can be found at the RRPDC website at www.richmondregional.org.

Training & Education: Environmental Technical Advisory Committee Support

This committee is organized by RRPDC staff and generally meets once every two months to bring together local and state environmental staff for training opportunities and discussion of environmental issues. In January 2009, the RRPDC hosted a workshop on Integrated Shoreline Management conducted by Virginia Institute of Marine Science staff for the Environmental Technical Advisory Committee (Env-TAC). RRPDC advised Env-TAC members of the Virginia Water Monitoring Council annual conference that occurred in March of 2009 in Henrico, VA. On June 9, 2009 Virginia Department of Conservation and Recreation staff provided training for Env-TAC members on the then proposed updates to the Virginia stormwater management regulations, the stormwater management handbook, and the BMP clearinghouse. On August 18, 2009, the RRPDC Env-TAC held a joint meeting with the Richmond Regional GIS User's Group in Henrico County. The focus of the meeting was to provide updates and training to committee members on the regional green infrastructure project and using the GIS data produced in planning projects. On September 29, 2009 Division of Chesapeake Bay Local Assistance staff provided training to Env-TAC staff on upcoming local compliance evaluations and Phase III implementation of the Chesapeake Bay Preservation Act. The Environmental Technical Advisory Committee meeting agendas can be found in Appendix A of this document.

Local Government Technical Assistance: Environmental Review and Mapping

RRPDC staff has completed 46 environmental reviews of federal, state and local projects during this period. RRPDC staff attended the VAPDC environmental meeting in January 2009. RRPDC environmental review response letters for the year can be found in Appendix B.

As additional support for the regional blue-green infrastructure project currently underway by the RRPDC and the Crater PDC, RRPDC staff has helped to staff several green infrastructure public workshops in RRPDC localities. The green infrastructure workshops were created by the Green Infrastructure Center and the Capital Region Land Conservancy through a grant from the Altria Corporation. Environmental Technical Advisory Committee members were advised of the workshops and invited to attend or invite others who might be interested to attend.

Project Maintenance

RRPDC staff continues to maintain and update data obtained through previous CZM-funded projects in order to keep these projects current and viable. As interest in the James River Interpretive maps and the Chickahominy River Recreation Access Study has increased with the arrival of new members to the RRPDC board, RRPDC staff worked to verify and update the current accuracy of these documents. In addition, funds were used to reprint 5,000 sets of the James River Interpretive maps for distribution around the Richmond Region. The maps have been distributed to locality Planning and Parks and Recreation departments, various non-profit organizations, the Metropolitan Richmond Convention Center and Visitors Bureau and numerous other tourism and visitor locations in the Richmond area. An electronic PDF of the James River Interpretive maps is available on the RRPDC website at www.richmondregional.org.

Integrated Shoreline Management Workshop for Local Government Staff

Thursday, January 22, 2009
1:00-4:00pm

Richmond Regional PDC Offices
9211 Forest Hill Ave., Suite 200
Richmond, VA

This free half-day workshop, cosponsored by the Richmond Regional Planning District Commission and the Virginia Institute of Marine Science, will provide an introduction to the practical application of integrated shoreline management for the local government staff of Charles City, Chesterfield, Hanover, Henrico, and New Kent Counties, the City of Richmond, and the Town of Ashland. Scientists from the Center for Coastal Resources Management of the Virginia Institute of Marine Science will conduct the workshop.

Intended participants:

- Wetlands Board staff
- Chesapeake Bay Board staff
- Virginia Marine Resources Commission – Habitat Management staff
- DCR Chesapeake Bay Local Assistance staff

Topics include:

- Jurisdiction determination
- Tidal wetland delineation
- Pre-application strategies
- Permit processing and evaluation
- Ecosystem services
- Determination of erosion risk and indicators
- Determination of preferred shoreline treatments and their impacts

It is our hope that this small regional gathering will allow for more discussion and interaction, and will assist local staff in accomplishing this portion of their jobs.

Light snacks and handout materials will be provided at no charge. This initial workshop will be held indoors. Directions are available at <http://www.richmondregional.org>.

Please RSVP to Julie Bradshaw at VIMS (julieb@vims.edu or 804-684-7894).

RRPDC staff received 1 reply from locality staff. New Kent replied "Based on the information provided; several of the options would produce considerable negative impacts to the near shore environment. The Structural Method should not be a considered for this project, the retaining walls will create a disconnect between the upland and river ecosystems, as well as alter water flow and sediment transport. Bulkheads and retaining walls are generally discouraged in tidal areas and should be discouraged in this setting as well. Option #2 Terracing with Gabion baskets will have many of the same negative impacts.

In order to provide protection and cause the least amount of impact, Repair Method #3 should be used. This method has proven effective in many other areas, including those in moderate to moderate-high energy settings."

RRPDC staff has reviewed the proposed project and supports the project as proposed using Repair Method #3.
